Jacob,

Regarding the Los Altos address for Dynadot LLC, our server did try there yesterday, but it is a residence and no one would come to the door at 6:25 PM PST. A woman inside did come to a nearby window and spoke to the server from there, but was very combative and would not answer the server's questions when he inquired where Dynadot is or if someone from the company was there. She eventually told the server that she did not know anything and told him to leave. We can try and get an audience with someone else here but let me know if you have other instructions or questions.

Thank you,

Jacob,

Attached are the affidavits of service for the files that were served in Delaware yesterday.

Regarding the remaining services, I have a few updates -

Re: Dynadot LLC at 210 S. Ellsworth Ave. in San Mateo, service was attempted yesterday at 2:10 PM PST but the server found that this location is a U.S. Post Office location. The server did try speaking with a clerk there but they would not confirm if the entity rents box 345 there.

Re: Dynadot LLC at 205 E. 3rd Ave., service was attempted at 2:14 PM PST, however this location is a secured building with no entry allowed unless you have a keycard or call up. Dynadot was listed on the directory, but the server did not receive an answer when they called up. They will reattempt this one.

Re: GoDaddy.com LLC at 2155 E. GoDaddy Way - service was attempted at 3:16 PM MST and our server spoke with personnel in the legal department who advised that they are only authorized to accept warrants or subpoenas at those locations, so they could not accept service of the documents yesterday. They also advised the server that all other legal documents for service should be directed to their registered agent, however that information was not given when the server inquired. Please let us know how you would like us to proceed with service on these, if at all.

I will also follow up with our agent in the Bay Area regarding the service of Dynadot in Los Altos once their business day starts.
